

English Language Arts
Curriculum
2007

B. WRITING: Students write to express their ideas and emotions, to describe their experiences, to communicate information, and to present or analyze an argument.

Content	Grade 9	Grade 10	Grade 11	Grade 12
B5 Practical Application	Students write personal communication and pieces related to educational development, career issues, and civic participation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Complete college, job, licensing, and scholarship applications. b. Request information. c. Write editorials. 	Students write personal communication and pieces related to educational development, career issues, and civic participation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Complete college, job, licensing, and scholarship applications. b. Request information. c. Write editorials 	Students write personal communication and pieces related to educational development, career issues, and civic participation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Complete college, job, licensing, and scholarship applications. b. Request information. c. Write editorials 	Students write personal communication and pieces related to educational development, career issues, and civic participation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Complete college, job, licensing, and scholarship applications. b. Request information. c. Write editorials